Date	11 December 2018

“The Qatar Council for Healthcare Practitioners (QCHP) presents to you its compliments.”

As per the registration and licensing guidelines and procedures, no healthcare practitioner is allowed to work as a trainee or under supervision in case they have break of practice without the prior approval of the QCHP. In case of non-compliance with the above mentioned, the training period completed without approval will not be considered to cover the break from practice (as per the “Break from Practice” policy).

Accordingly, healthcare practitioners who have a break of practice and have a place of work must apply for an evaluation request through the Electronic Registration and Licensing System. Practitioners who do not have an existing employer can submit a manual request to the Registration Department – QCHP attached by an updated CV and a copy of the educational qualifications and clinical experience of the practitioner.
